FIELD PRACTICUM

The practicum can be done in the U.S. or abroad, and it must be related to some aspect of global health. For example, the experience can address needs of an underserved population or be at an agency or organization with a mission related to global health or health equity.

The departmental practicum may be used to satisfy this requirement if it meets certificate criteria. If using the department practicum, students must provide a copy of the department paperwork to Meredith Maverro (mlm72@pitt.edu). Joanne Russell must also pre-approve the practicum.

Refer to the Global Health Certificate Student Handbook for additional information. Recommended sequencing: Summer between years 1 & 2.
