

PITT PUBLIC HEALTH'S ONLINE JOB BOARD FOR STUDENTS AND ALUMNI

What is Pitt Bridges?

---

Pitt Bridges is an online, password-protected job database available to all current masters and doctoral students and alumni within the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public Health. All opportunities are reviewed for relevance, and employers must be approved before posting. Pitt Bridges includes the following:

- Full-time positions
- Part-time positions
- Fellowships
- Postdocs
- Internships
- Practicum opportunities

Pitt Bridges is accessible to a broad range of users—from first-year students, to upcoming graduates, to experienced alumni. Opportunities cover a variety of experience levels and skill sets across all of our seven departments: Behavioral and Community Health Sciences, Biostatistics, Environmental and Occupational Health, Epidemiology, Health Policy and Management/Health Services Research and Policy, Human Genetics/Genetic Counseling, and Infectious Diseases and Microbiology.

More than just a job board!

The benefits of Pitt Bridges reach far beyond searching and applying for career opportunities. All of the following functions are also available to students and alumni with a Pitt Bridges account:

- Request and schedule one-on-one appointments with a career counselor
- View and register for upcoming career services workshops and events
- Upload your resume or CV to an online resume book viewable to employers
- Utilize the extensive employer database to explore career destinations
- Access a catalog of helpful career development resources, articles, and information
