Graduate and Professional Student Government

The Graduate and Professional Student Government (GPSG) is the student government for all graduate and professional students at the Oakland campus of the University of Pittsburgh. It administers half of the graduate student activity fee. It uses this fee to provide services and event programming to all graduate and professional students.

GPSG also connects graduate/professional students to Pitt's administrators through graduate student representation on many University committees. GPSG represents the concerns of all graduate and professional students, so please contact us if you have an issue we can help with.

Graduate and professional students can get involved with the GPSG by attending our monthly assembly meetings or visiting our office in William Pitt Union. To get communications, updates, and event invites directly from GPSG, students can like us on facebook (group), twitter, or sign up for our email list by emailing pittgpsg@gmail.com.

Examples of programs and services we provide include the following:

- Social events
- Annual funding for the school-level graduate/professional student governments
- Travel grants to students presenting at or attending conferences. (See Travel Grant)
